

July 16, 1999

Dear Mr. Weisberg,

Thank you for your letter of 7-18-99. (You pre-dated the letter, apparently, as I received it today, July 16.) I'm certainly happy that you're finally out of the hospital and nursing home, and hope your wife returns home soon, too.

To bring you up to date and also remind you of what I have written to you thus far, I'm sending you a copy of my 2-21-99 and 3-4-99 letters to you. So far I have not received any documentation from you or anyone else that would substantiate, in any way, your extremely serious and very assertive declaration on pages 174-176 of your book "Case Opened" that you had records and evidence that Oswald had a Top Secret clearance in the Marines and this fact was expunged from his Marine record. This is the type of information which is so highly important, if true, that I would request you to have the proof of it in copies all over your home. Unless I hear otherwise from you, I shall conclude that you have no such documentation and this was, unfortunately, just very loose writing on your part, something that we are all capable of from time to time. I sincerely hope that you will be able to disabuse me of the conclusion I am in the process of forming.

Best wishes,
Vince Bugliosi

Harold,
